

Cross-Market Brand Performance Scorecard

A framework for comparing marketing performance fairly across multiple brands or markets — built from a real 13-brand, 4-market rebuild.

1. Taxonomy

- ☐ Do all markets and brands use the same UTM and naming convention?
- ☐ Can you compare campaign performance across markets, or does each report differently?
- ☐ Would a new hire understand your tracking structure without a lengthy explanation?

2. Accountability

- ☐ Do agencies in every market report on outcomes, or mostly on activity?
- ☐ Is there one person who owns cross-market marketing efficiency?
- ☐ When did you last reallocate budget based on evidence, not habit?

3. Reporting

- ☐ Does reporting up to leadership take days of manual reconciliation?
- ☐ Could you show, with confidence, which market or brand is most efficient right now?
- ☐ Is your reporting cadence monthly, or does it only happen when someone asks?

How to read your answers: this is almost always a structural problem, not a strategy problem — and it's usually fixable without a full re-plan.
